today, with comedy the predominant bought right feature. Temple and Huff have an eccentric singing, comedy travesty skit be hard to equal anywhere, and the tucket street. feals completes a good all around vaudeville bill. The special feature in the photoplays today is the second reel of Our Mutual Girl series that have become so popular with the patrons since the first one was shown las week. In this picture the great Yale-Princeton football game is shown, be-sides a visit to one of the leading mili-nery establishments of New York, where all the latest creations in ladies' headgear is seen to advantage. This is a picture that will appeal to the ladies, and will be shown here every week. In the Clutches of a Gang is the title of a screamingly funny two reel Keystone comedy feature that is also on this bill. The other photoplay is called A Kentucky Romance, and tells a beautiful slory of the south. In addition to this regular show the programme is further enhanced by a cor-net solo played by Mr. Feltcorn of the Davis concert oreliestra. Solos by different members of the orchestra will be one of the many features of the music at this theater at different inervals. For the first half of next week a big bill of vaudeville and pho-toplays is booked, with Alf. Holt & Co. the headline attraction in one of the greatest comedy sketches ever seen in this city. The other acts are Russell and C'Nell, two elever singing and talking artists, and Tyrol, the funny ventriloquist. Watch Monday's Bulleventriloquist. Que Vadis at the Auditorium. How would you like to be the cam-era man with a moving picture pro-ducing company? Like the man who carries the gun, he does the important work and gets the least recognition and credit. With some productions the camera man has a very pleasant and happy time, but on the other hand his labor is sometimes full of excitement and not a little danger. Take, for instance, that marvelous photodrama, Quo Vadis, which created such a sen-sation in New York at the Astor theater, in Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia and numerous other big cities and which comes to the Auditorium Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. Many of the scenes have been very pleasant work for the camera artist, and then again there are one or frontier.
two where he must have had firm grip And on his nerve, and his heart must have jumped out of his mouth. For instance, that scene just before the lions are turned loose upon the Christians in the arena. It represents a den of wild beasts being lashed into proper fury. Here we see a tamer with great leath er whips thrashing away at these enormous cats, apparently without fear of harm. The camera man must have been close at hand to take that picture, and while the tamer may have had the fear of himself and his whip stung in the brains of the beasts, not so with the camera man. He was a ery photo artist would enjoy it. The same is true of the scene in the arena, where the animals dash toward the constitutions for their terrible feast. The camera man had to be there and in conspicious and to be there and in conspicious and the conspicious artists. camera man had to be there and in a conspicuous place to obtain the proper focus and catch the picture of the action. It is not recorded that any artist perished in the making of this picture. nevertheless they took desperate chances and might have furnished food themselves for the beasts. Lions are not known to show much partiality, especially to strangers who are poking funny looking machines at them. How often do the millions of people who see wonderful and dan-gerous specimens of moving photogra-phy ever think of the chances that the ASSAILS NEGROES Declares Women of South Are Living in State of Siege.

Washington, Feb. 6.—After another day's debate on the race question, the senate agreed to vote tomorrow on the final passage of the Lever agricultural

Senator Gallinger started today's argument with a statement in favor of the Jones amendment to provide that negro agricultural colleges in the south shall share in the administration of the proposed fund for farm demonthe proposed fund for farm demonstration. This brought forth extended remarks upon the negro by Senator Vardaman, who declared it would be a Godsend if the negro was not permitted to vote in any state. He added that the republican party was getting fired of the black in politics and was considering a way to get him out of the national conventions. the national conventions Senator Clapp protested that what senator Vardaman was saying about the inability of the negro to advance alone was not applicable to the mix-ed bloods of Minnesota. Describing present conditions in the "black belt," the Mississippi senator said the women of the southern states were living today in a state of siege, with more dread than in the days when

POETRY

NO REST FOR THE HORSE.

There's a union for teamster and There's a union for cabman and cook.
There's a union for hobo and preacher.
And one for detective and crook.
There's a union for blacksmith and painter.
There is one for the printer, of course dut where would you go in this realm

To discover a guild for the horse?
He can't make a murmur in protes He can't make a murmur in protest.

Though they strain him both up and down hill; Or force him to work twenty hours At the whim of some drunken brutes Look back at our struggle for free-

Trace our present day's strength to its And you'll find that man's pathway to glory Is strewn with the bones of the horse. The mule is a fool under fire; The horse, although frightened, stands true.

The horse, although frightened, stands true.

And hed charge into hell without flinching.

Twixt the knees of the trooper he knew.

When the troopers grow old they are pensioned.

Or a berth or a home is found:

When a horse is worn out they condemn him.

And sell him for nothing a pound.

Just think, the old pet of some trooper, Once curried and rubbed twice a day.

Now drags some ragpickers wagon, with curses and blows for his pay.

I once knew a king of racers.

The best of a cup-winning strain. They ruined his kneas on a hurdle. For his rider's hat covered no brain. I met him again, four years later, On his side at the foot of a hill.

With two savages kicking his ribs. And doing their work with a will I stroked the once velvety muzzle. I murmured the old name again, the once filled my purse with gold do. hare.

Is much like the old-fashioned wife;
He may not be proud of his bargain.
But still he'll be faithful through life.
And I enty the merriful teamster.
Who can stand at the Bar and say.
"Kind Lord with the justice I dealt my horse. Judge Thou my soul today."
